Request & Response:

Request in bold:

Earlier this year, the European Union ruled that most foodstuffs with CBD in them fell under the Novel Foods category, meaning it was illegal to sell them. I'm contacting councils to find out

*Have there been any complaints made to your trading standards team about people selling CBD foods?

*If so, has any action been taken?

Response in plain text:

We don't have a code for this on our database so can't report actual numbers. Two were identified from a quick manual search based on officer memory.

The traders were advised and the inappropriate health claims were removed.
